Para La Tierra is an NGO dedicated to the conservation of fragile habitats in Paraguay. We achieve this mission through three primary programs: Scientific Research, Community Engagement, and Environmental Education.

Atlantic Forest:
- Hooded capuchin studies
- Camera trapping
- Moth lighting
- Environmental education in indigenous and rural communities
- Applied conservation

Neembucú Wetlands:
- Wetland research
- Tuco tuco studies
- Urban wildlife research
- Voces de la Naturaleza Eco-Clubs
- Museum studies
- Scientific writing
- Science communication

Course About Para La Tierra

WHAT YOU’LL LEARN

- March 12th to 18th
- Unique insight into field biology and conservation
- Small group setting
- 2 field sites
- Includes all room, board and transportation in-country
- $1295/ person

FOR MORE INFORMATION CONTACT

olivia@paralatierra.org